

Elite Ti — Go-To-Market Promo & Discount Calendar

Purpose: define what we market, to whom, when, and at what price — with time-boxed discount codes that go live only for the campaign window and expire automatically. Every code below has a hard start and end date. Nothing runs open-ended.

Companion document: Marketing Execution Plan (who posts what, where, and how the AI agent distributes). This report is the offer & calendar; that one is the operations.

1. Positioning principles

- 1. Discipline over depth. We sell premium titanium & carbon at a ~$1,000 AOV. We do not train buyers to wait for 30% off. Most promos are 10-15%, often with a minimum spend so margin and AOV are protected.
- 2. Time-boxed = urgency + safety. Every code has start + end dates. Scarcity converts this audience; auto-expiry protects margin.
- 3. Get in front of buyers, not browsers. Each promo is pushed to the people most likely to buy that platform: past buyers/abandoners of that model (Klaviyo), that model's FB/IG groups and forums, and retargeting of that model's collection viewers. (Mechanics in §6.)
- 4. Group buys ≠ discount codes. Group buys use tiered pre-order pricing, not coupons (see the Group Buy Playbook). They're listed here for calendar coordination only.
- 5. Match the moment. Anchor to dates this audience already cares about (Sevens Day, SEMA, Tokyo Auto Salon) and proven retail spikes (Black Friday, tax-refund season).

2. The discount toolkit (types we'll use)

Type	Depth	Structure	When
Model Day	10-15%	Scoped to one model collection + min spend	Signature days (Sevens Day, GTR, etc.)
Seasonal retail	10%	Sitewide + min spend	Labor Day, Memorial Day, New Year
Black Friday / Cyber	15% (or 10/15/20)	tiered Sitewide; biggest event of year	Late Nov
Gift / holiday	10% + gift cards	Accessories/apparel/universal titanium	December
Clearance / container	15-20%	Curated clearance collection only	Year-end + on container arrival
Group buy (pre-order)	Tiered pricing	Not a code — pre-order page	Quarterly

3. Master promo calendar (next 12 months)

Dates are inclusive. Codes expire 11:59 PM on the end date. "Scope" = which collection the code applies to (sitewide = no collection). All depths are proposals pending your approval.

#	Campaign	Window	Models / Scope	Code	Offer	Type
1	SC300/SC400 Door Trim Launches + Card Group Buy	late June	SC300/400 / Soarer —		Tiered pre-order (~$900 trims ~$1,400 cards)	Group buy

—	Container Restock sales	/ On arrival (~quarterly)	The arriving model lines	CONTAINER	12–15% off that line, 5–7 days	Container

Result: 1-2 promotable offers every month, loaded heaviest into the proven spike windows (Black Friday and Feb-March tax season), with group buys and container sales filling the gaps.

4. Black Friday — the one to get right

BF/CM is our biggest single retail window (~$25K last year with no real plan). Two options:

- Option A (simple): 15% sitewide + free shipping. Easy to communicate, one code, strong enough to convert without gutting margin on $1K+ carbon/titanium.
- Option B (margin-smart): tiered "spend more, save more" — 10% over $500 / 15% over $1,500 / 20% over $3,000. Rewards full builds, protects small-order margin, lifts AOV. Requires an automatic discount (set via GraphQL) or three stacked-threshold codes.

Recommendation: Option B as an automatic tiered discount — it fits a high-AOV build audience and industry data shows threshold tiers lift basket size more than a flat % on big-ticket parts. Run VIP early access (high-value segment) 48 hrs before public.

5. Discount code spec sheet (ready for Shopify prefill)

Hand these straight to setup. I will prefill these in Shopify only after you approve, each with the start/end below so they cannot run past their window. Eligibility = all customers unless noted. Model scope uses these collections:

TAS2027	12	$1,000	JDM-hero (campaign collection)	2027-01-08	2027-01-18

Code	%	Min spend	Scope	Starts	Ends
BUILDLOVE	10	—	Interior/trim (campaign collection)	2027-02-11	2027-02-15
REFUND	10	$1,000	Sitewide	2027-02-20	2027-03-08
MARCH	12	$1,000	Feature model	2027-03-13	2027-03-22
SPRING	10	$750	New-product s collection	2027-04-10	2027-04-19
MEMORIAL	10	$500	Sitewide	2027-05-21	2027-05-25

Note on multi-model promos (GTR, rotary, JDM-hero, aero, interior): Shopify's quick discount tool scopes to one collection. For these I'll either (a) create a small temporary "Campaign collection" for the promo, or (b) set them up via GraphQL to target multiple collections. Single-model and sitewide codes are straightforward. Flag your preference.

Prefill status (live in Shopify)

Staged & scheduled (inactive until their window): SEVENS · LABORDAY · SEMA · REFUND · MEMORIAL · GODZILLA · BLACKOUT · GIFT — all created as scheduled discounts; they will not apply to any order before their start date and auto-expire at the end date. Three are scoped to temporary campaign collections curated from the existing model/category collections: - Campaign — Godzilla (GTR R32–R35) — 224 products, merged from the R32/R33/R34/R35 GTR collections. - Campaign — Blackout (Rotary RX-7 + RX-8) — 134 products, merged from the Mazda RX7 + RX8 collections. - Campaign — Holiday Gifts (Titanium & Swag) — 66 products, merged from Titanium Products + Shirts/Swag + Shift Knobs. These are clearly labeled "Campaign —" and safe to delete after each promo.

BF2026 — Black Friday tiered (staged): built as three scheduled automatic discounts (10% over $500 · 15% over $1,500 · 20% over $3,000), set not to combine with each other so Shopify applies only the single best-qualifying tier per cart. △ Verify before go-live: run a test/draft cart at each threshold ($800, $1,800, $3,200) to confirm only one tier applies and the tiers don't stack. If bulletproof tiering is required, replace with a single Shopify Discount Function.

Housekeeping done: two stray open-ended ACTIVE 10% codes (NT8YMY9VFZNB, JBQ4A9VWGZFJ) that had no expiry were expired.

Still pending — blocked on a curation/decision (catalog can't supply these cleanly): - SHOWSEASON (aero/body kits) — the Aero collection is empty; body kits live scattered inside each model collection. Needs either a curated aero list or approval to build a title-rule smart collection (Body Kit / Wing / Diffuser / Lip / Splitter / Spoiler ...). - TAS2027 (JDM heroes) — subjective hero set. Proposed sources to confirm: Supra MKIV, RX-7, R34 GTR, 350Z, GT86, Evo 8/9. - BUILDLOVE (interior/trim) — no interior collection exists; needs a curated list or a product-type rule. - YEAREND (clearance) — no clearance collection; Nate needs to flag which items are clearance. - SPRING (new products) — no unified "new arrivals" collection (only per-brand "New" dumps). - MARCH (feature model) — pick the season's bestselling model closer to the date.

6. Getting each promo in front of actual buyers

Every promo fires through four buyer-focused channels, not a generic blast:

- 1. Klaviyo segments — the model's past buyers + browse/cart abandoners + the high-value list first (VIP early access). This is the "people who already want it" layer.
- 2. Model-specific FB/IG groups + forums — AI agent reshapes the human's creative into the exact-platform communities (RX-7 promo → RX-7 groups/rx7club, GTR promo → GTR groups, etc.).
- 3. Meta retargeting — serve the offer to people who viewed that model's collection/products in the last 30–60 days. Warm traffic, high intent.
- 4. Native social — human posts the announcement on IG/FB/TikTok; AI adds UTM links.

This is the difference between "5,000 random impressions" and "the 400 people building that exact car who saw it in their group and their inbox the same day."

7. Discount-depth rationale (industry-informed)

- 10-15% is the conversion sweet spot for premium aftermarket: enough to trigger a purchase, not so deep it signals "the real price is lower" or erodes brand on titanium/carbon.
 - Minimum-spend thresholds push AOV up and keep small orders from eroding margin — they fit a build audience that buys in sets (hood + interior + hardware).
 - Black Friday is the exception where 15-20% (tiered) is expected and shoppers actively compare — going too shallow here leaves money on the table; tiering captures big builds.
 - Clearance/container 15-20% is fine because it's curated overstock, not core catalog — it moves aged inventory and funds the next container without discounting the everyday range.
 - Never discount during group buys — pre-order tier pricing already is the incentive; stacking a code on top destroys the model.

8. What I need from you to activate

1. Approve depths/dates above (or edit them).
2. Confirm Black Friday Option A (flat 15%) vs B (tiered).
3. Confirm multi-model handling (temporary campaign collections vs GraphQL multi-collection).
4. On approval, I'll prefill the codes in Shopify with the exact start/end dates — scheduled, not live early, and auto-expiring. Nothing goes live until you say go.

Elite Ti — Group Buy Playbook

Group buys are our single best revenue tool (the SC300/SC400 door card pre-order alone did $31K / 24 orders). This is the repeatable system so any group buy runs the same proven way.

Why group buys work for us

- High-ticket, made-to-order parts — pre-orders let us validate demand and fund production before committing capital.
- Scarcity + deadline + community — this audience commits when there's a clear window and they see others joining. Tier unlocks turn buyers into recruiters ("we're 3 away from the next price drop — tag a friend").
- Captures big-ticket money in waves — pairs perfectly with proven windows (tax-refund season, post-holiday build season).

The mechanics

1. Pricing tiers (MOQ unlocks)

Reward early + collective commitment. Example structure (adjust per product):

Tier	Trigger	Buyer price
Founding / Early Bird	First N orders OR first 72 hrs	Lowest price
Group Buy	Standard window	Mid price
List	After the buy closes / in-stock	Full list price

For the SC300/SC400 buy, the early group-buy participants already got the lowest pricing. This round runs at list: ~$900 door trims / ~$1,400 door cards. Frame it honestly — "early-buy pricing has closed; this is your last chance before retail/in-stock pricing."

2. Minimum order quantity (MOQ)

Set the unit count needed to greenlight production. Show progress publicly ("18 / 25 committed"). If MOQ isn't hit by the deadline, either extend once or refund deposits.

3. Deposit vs. paid-in-full

- Deposit model (e.g. 50% down) lowers the barrier on $1K+ items and widens the funnel.
- Paid-in-full simplifies accounting and signals serious demand.
- Recommend deposit for new/unproven products, paid-in-full for repeat buys with a known fulfillment timeline.

4. Timeline (the 4-beat arc)

Beat	Timing	Action
Tease	1-2 weeks before	Spec sneak peeks, "something's coming," collect email/SMS sign-ups for early access
Launch	Day 0	Open pre-order, post everywhere (see distribution plan), email/SMS blast, pin in groups
Mid-point	~Halfway	Tier-unlock / MOQ progress update, customer questions, "X away from next tier"
Last call	Final 48 hrs	Countdown, scarcity, final email/SMS, "closing Sunday"

Beat	Timing	Action
Close + follow-up	After	Thank-you, production timeline, fulfillment content, "missed it? join the list for the next run"

5. Set expectations on lead time

State production + ship timelines up front on the product page and in every post. Reduces support load and chargebacks on made-to-order items.

Confirmed buy #1 — SC300/SC400/Soarer Door Trims + Door Cards

- Launch: end of June 2026.
- Products: new door trims + door cards.
- Pricing (list, this round): door trims ~$900; door cards ~$1,400 — in line with the Supra door cards because it includes the handle and hardware.
- Positioning: early group-buy pricing has closed; this round is list pricing before in-stock. Emphasize the door cards include everything (handle/hardware) to justify vs. trims.
- Where to push: SC300/SC400 + Soarer Facebook groups and forums (clublexus SC300/400, SC300.org), Instagram, email/SMS. The door card pre-order proved this audience converts.
- Suggested mechanics: paid-in-full or 50% deposit; show MOQ progress; 2-week tease → open → mid-point tier/MOQ update → last-48hr close.

Confirmed buy #2 — Sevens Day (RX-7)

- Date: 7/7 (run July 5-9, peak on the 7th).
- Offer: 10-15% off RX-7 orders over $1,000 (hoods, interiors, headlights, rear seat delete, door sills, etc.). Threshold offer protects margin and lifts AOV.
- Type: not a pre-order — an in-stock Model Day to move catalog and drive engagement.
- Where to push: RX-7 FD3S Facebook groups, rx7club.com, r/rx7, Instagram. Lead with RX-7 hero builds and the rotary community angle all week.

Group-buy checklist (copy per event)

- [] Product + pricing tiers + MOQ confirmed by Nate
- [] Deposit vs. paid-in-full decided
- [] Production + ship lead time confirmed and written on the page
- [] Shopify product / pre-order page live (with UTM-ready link)
- [] Deadline + countdown set
- [] Tease content scheduled (1-2 wks out)
- [] Launch posts queued across all channels (see distribution plan)
- [] Email/SMS early-access + launch blasts drafted
- [] Group / forum posts prepared (and vendor-posting rules checked)
- [] Mid-point + last-48hr updates scheduled
- [] Close + fulfillment follow-up planned
